

Nertype

Nertype language is a constructed (opposing natural) literary language or conlang for short. It was inspired by toki pona, lojban and my own experience in using programming languages. My goal was to create a minimalistic yet expressive language without ambiguity.

We can be vague, but not ambiguous.

— Some lojban speaker

Nertype © 2025 by Nick Zaber is licensed under CC BY-SA 4.0.

To view a copy of this license, visit <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/4.0/>